Sunshine, Markets, and Music Fill a Fine Sundas

Payson, Ariz.

Payson — Hail, wayfarer, and a bright good morning to you, under a clear sky and a kind sun over the pines! Today the Hold offers a farmers market in Sedona, a thoughtful discussion circle here in Payson, the last hours of a river retreat in Camp Verde, and live music in Prescott. The days ahead bring an open mic in Pine, a trail-building morning, and Halloween doings on Saturday, Oct. 31 — by the Nine, a merry week for every traveler on the Rim road.

Market stalls, a discussion circle, and a bard under the pines — a sunny Sundas in the Holds.

Happening in the Holds Today

- Payson

  — Spiritual Soup — a monthly discussion group that meets on the 2nd and 4th Sundays, today from 11:15 AM to 12:15 PM at 904 N Beeline Hwy, Suite E, and on Zoom. Today's topic is "Forgiving Yourself and Others — What Is Your Experience?", led by facilitator Teri Taylor. Each person may bring a thought to share, or simply listen in good company. A love offering is taken. A gentle, friendly way to spend a Sunday hour.

- Camp Verde

  — A Sanctuary for your Soul Retreat at the River House — the last morning of a full-moon retreat weekend that began Friday, Oct. 23, ending today at 12:00 PM in Camp Verde. Guests have spent the weekend on morning yoga and breathwork, sound healing, quiet time by the river, and rest in nature. If a slow, restoring weekend sounds like your kind of quest, this is the one travelers have been talking about. Space on these weekends is limited, so plan ahead for the next one.

- Sedona

  — Sedona Community Farmers Market — winter hours today from 11:00 AM to 3:00 PM in the Wells Fargo Bank parking lot at 2201 W SR 89A in West Sedona. Look for local and regional harvest goods and artisan products, with live music from Tobie LaVoie and Friends while you browse. Pastured chicken, grass-fed beef, artisan breads, honey, and farm eggs are among the regular offerings. A fine Sunday outing under the red rocks, and worth the drive down the Rim.

- Prescott

  — Tone Kings — Live at Whiskey River Tavern — live music today at 1:00 PM at 214 S. Montezuma St in Prescott. Settle in at a Whiskey Row tavern for an afternoon set, the kind of mead-hall hour a bard would approve of. Good tunes, good company, and a town square worth a stroll before or after the show. Valley Dwellers up for the cool air will find Prescott in fine form today.

The Days Ahead

- Mon, Oct. 26

  — Open Mic Night: Music with a Purpose — THAT Brewery & Pub, 3270 AZ-87 in Pine, 4:00–7:00 PM. Singers, players, poets, and storytellers are all welcome, hosted by rotating members of the Fuel Reduction team, with tips benefiting Fuel Reduction. Cheer on your neighbors over a pint in the pines.

  — Olive Oil Tasting — Sedona — 4:00 PM at 336 Arizona 179, Suite C102, Sedona. A tasting outing for cooks and gift-hunters alike; come ready to compare flavors and learn what makes a good oil sing.

- Tue, Oct. 27

  — Trail Day Volunteer Build — Pine — 7:00 AM to 12:00 PM off Highway 87 just before Pine. Volunteers clear brush, move rocks, and shape a trail that will serve hikers, bikers, and runners for years, and help fire crews reach the forest when it counts. Tools are provided; bring water, sunscreen, gloves, and sturdy shoes. No experience needed — email trails@psfuelreduction.org for directions.

  — Youth Art Class — Show Low — 11:00 AM at 100 N White Mountain Rd, Suite 101, Show Low. A class morning for young artists; register through Kittles Fine Art under “Upcoming Classes.”

- Wed, Oct. 28

  — Bible Study at Juanita’s — Payson — 9:00 AM at 139 Hash Knife Drive in Payson. A small, friendly morning gathering around the table; newcomers are welcome to pull up a chair.

  — High Altitude Baking Workshop — Prescott — 5:00 PM at 840 Rodeo Dr, Building C, Prescott. Baking at mountain height is its own small magic — cakes rise differently up here — and this workshop is the place to learn its secrets.

  — Musicians with Heart Open Mic — Prescott — 7:00 PM at the Jersey Lilly Saloon in Prescott. An evening open mic on Whiskey Row, where local players take their turn and the room listens kindly.

- Thu, Oct. 29

  — Windmill Park Farmers Market — Cornville — 2:00 PM at 9950 E Cornville Rd in Cornville, in the Verde Valley below Camp Verde. A weekday market stop for farm goods and local wares on a pleasant autumn afternoon.

- Sat, Oct. 31

  — Show Low Main Street Halloween Trunk or Treat — 3:00–8:00 PM at Hatch Toyota, 1051 N Auto Mall Pkwy, Show Low. Trunk-or-treating, music, food, a haunted house, and a kids zone, plus a trunk decorating contest with cash prizes. Families can register a trunk for $10 through Show Low Main Street.

  — Harvest Festival at the Big Red Barn — Heber — Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 31–Nov. 1, starting 10:00 AM at the Big Red Barn in Heber, up the road from Show Low. Artists and crafters fill the barn for a harvest weekend; a fine excuse for a drive through the pines.

— On The Chopping Block — Prescott — a murder mystery dinner at 6:00 PM at the Elks Performing Arts Center, 117 E Gurley St, Prescott, put on by the Preskitt Mystery Company. The setting is a cooking contest semi-final, and the audience helps choose who goes on to the finals — supper and sleuthing in one.

Quests of the Hearth

Quests awaiting:

The workshop, where the Hearth takes shape.

- ☐ Doors — Mogollon Hearth — Due Saturday, Oct. 24 — now a day overdue and ready to start.
- ☐ Mount the shield by the front door — Hang it on a French cleat beside the front door, placed for the best view from the walkway. Due Oct. 24.
- ☐ Build the Mogollon's Hearth shield — Laser-cut layered plywood with a 3D-printed troll relief on top, finished with spar urethane. Due Oct. 17.
- ☐ Finish & install the torches — Paint, UV-seal, wire into the door-light boxes with the breaker off, and test at dusk. Due Oct. 10.
- ☐ Print the torch sconces — Print two torches plus the socket test piece, and test-fit bulb and socket first. Due Oct. 3.
- ☐ Design & prep the torch sconces — Scale the sconce model to the flame bulb and socket; slice in PETG, not PLA. Due Sept. 26.

Overdue and waiting: the Hearth doors and the shield by the front door were both due Saturday, Oct. 24.

Merchant of the Hold

Pioneer Village Trading Post · Payson

The trading post's treasure rooms, as the engraver imagines them.

A treasure-hunter's trading post on the north end of the Beeline, stocked by many hands over many years — rooms stacked high with vintage home décor, collectibles, pottery, glassware, and a large selection of antique American Indian jewelry, as Visit Arizona tells it. By some small enchantment of the Hold, every visit turns up something nobody remembers putting there — that is the fun of the place. Go in for one thing, hail traveler, and come out carrying three.

> "Pickers praise the wandering most of all — room after room of vintage décor, collectibles, and antique jewelry, with the fun lying in what turns up next." — Visit Arizona — Payson Pit Stops

1117 N Beeline Hwy, Payson. Open Sundays 11:00 AM–4:00 PM and Saturdays 11:00 AM–5:00 PM. No phone is listed on its page. Prices: inexpensive. Good to know: it is a weekend shop, so plan your treasure hunt for Saturday or Sunday. · their scrying-mirror page (other travelers call it a 'website')

Why the Hearth sends you:
Because every great hall needs one honest treasure room nearby — and guests love bringing a small piece of the Rim home with them.

Tales from the Treeline

The Great Acorn Necklace Parade

Henny leads the parade from the finest seat in the Hold.

Sundas dawned warm and golden, and Jethro (the Mogollon Monster) announced a parade. Not for any reason, mind — the acorns were falling, the sun was out, and that dang ol' Jethro has never once let a good morning go uncelebrated.

All morning he sat in the clearing stringing fallen acorns onto twine, making necklace after necklace. Earl (an elk) received the longest one and wore it with enormous dignity, holding his head high so it would not slide down his neck. Henny (the Hearth's plump chicken) refused a necklace outright, climbed onto the biggest pumpkin by the porch instead, and led the whole parade from up there like a queen on a very round throne.

Round the clearing they went, three times, Jethro waving at nobody, Earl stepping slow and stately, Henny clucking the beat. Mabel sighed, said it was the finest parade the Hold had seen all week, and went back to her garden. She was not wrong.
